Interest coverage ratio (ICR)

An interest coverage ratio (ICR) refers to the amount required to be received in rental income compared to the agreed monthly repayment amount for the mortgage. The gross rental income from the property should equal or exceed the ICR, as determined using a combination of the tax band applicable to an applicant’s income and the property type. The tax band applicable to the applicant with the highest income will be used.

		Property type
		Single self-contained unit (SSC)
TAX STATUS	Basic rate tax payer (20%)	125%
	Higher rate tax payer (40%)	140%
	Additional rate tax payer (45%)	140%

As we need to assess the affordability for the property based on the total loans advanced, each existing loan balance will also be subject to an ICR calculation based on the product charging rate for that loan plus 2% or 5.5%, whichever is the greater. The exception to this rule is i) the calculation on the new further advance where a 5 year fixed rate product is chosen; or ii) where an existing loan is subject to the completion of a simultaneous product switch and further advance, both on 5 year fixed rate products. In these circumstances alone, the product charging rate or 4% will apply, whichever is the greater. Where an existing loan has less than 12 months remaining on an incentivised product, the calculation will be based on the reversion rate plus 2% or 5.5%, whichever is the greater.

Future affordability

To cater for the PRA affordability regulation, we will require a property schedule to be completed as part of the further advance application in every case, and where applicable, we may need to see an updated business plan and cash flow forecast. We will also need to ask for more information about your income to enable us to apply the appropriate tax band and ICR to the affordability assessment.

We must be satisfied that the applicant(s) are able to withstand increases in mortgage interest rates, cover rental voids and be able to afford the mortgage now and after any fixed or tracker period expires.

If you would like us to talk through the calculation that applies to your application, please call us on 0345 849 4040.

The mortgage valuation report is a Security Assessment carried out for the benefit of the Paragon Banking Group to determine if a property provides acceptable security for mortgage purposes. A valuation fee will be charged at application stage in accordance with the fee scale shown above. Where an internal inspection has been carried out and the proposed security is subsequently declined, a valuation report will not be made available although a summary will be given advising why the property is deemed to be unsuitable. In these circumstances the valuation fee is non-refundable.
